GOVERNOR JANET NAPOLITANO
FIRST REGULAR SESSION, FORTY-NINTH LEGISLATURE
JANUARY 12, 2009

Speaker Adams, President Burns, Honorable Senators and Representatives, Chief Justice McGregor and justices of the Supreme Court, Secretary of State Brewer and other constitutional officers, tribal leaders, honored guests and my fellow Arizonans:

It is my honor to stand before you today as Governor, and to deliver my report on the state of the state. This is a day of mixed emotions. On the one hand, I am very sad that this is very likely the final time I will address Arizonans in this manner. On the other hand, I am confident about the future of this state and proud of the work we have done together.

I have been called by our President-elect to serve in a new way, during extraordinary times. I am not alone in this call to serve. Indeed, this difficult time calls upon all of us to offer ourselves to the greater good, to build a stronger state and a stronger country.

The call to serve comes in many forms. For some, it means service in our armed forces; others will feel called to work on change here at the state capitol; yet others will offer service as volunteers in our communities.

For this Legislature, your call to serve will demand that you make decisions that are difficult in the short run but that need to be wise in the long run. Your task is to make Arizona safer, stronger and more prosperous than ever before. In the past six years, we have traveled a long way together, and we have come a long way toward this vision of safety, strength and prosperity.

As Arizona is swept by national afflictions like faltering markets and growing deficits, it can be hard to remember the basic fact that should drive our state: Arizona is young and dynamic, and it is primed for success.

The task is to meet these great challenges with short-term decisions that do not dim the bright future of this remarkable state.

When I took office, our state faced a budget deficit that many thought would sink our priorities for Arizona. Since then – in surplus and in deficit – I have always presented you with a balanced budget plan that moved Arizona forward.

That's an important lesson as we look at our situation today: We don't have to go back. We do have to go forward.

As revenues increased, we set aside money in a rainy day fund, cut taxes and provided tax incentives for important areas like research and development. We implemented 26 of the 36 recommendations of the Citizens Finance Review Commission. We reviewed all state expenditures and undertook actions such as restructuring procurement and curtailing our use of energy. All told, our efforts have saved more than $1 billion.

We have passed a balanced budget every year, but we still need to make significant adjustments in this year's budget because of the continuing recession. I have already given you a balanced budget plan for 2009; and as I have in every year I have served, I will present to the Legislature a detailed plan on how to balance next year's budget, still protecting important investments and accomplishing that without raising taxes.

But even as I deliver that budget plan this week, I hearken back to a statement from my First Inaugural Address: "Generations to come will not remember us for how we balanced the budget, or how we expanded or contracted the size of government. Instead, they will remember how we educated our children, how we protected our seniors, how we built a new economy, and how we made this wonderful state an even better place to live."

Together, we have provided better educational opportunities for our children. We have protected our seniors and built toward a new economy. We have moved Arizona forward, and the budget I present to you will be balanced and will protect what we have achieved.

As you know, there is nothing more important to me as Governor than the education of Arizona's children. We have added – and protected – a new grade level, voluntary full-day kindergarten, that gives thousands of Arizona students a head start in education that will benefit them for the rest of their lives. By vote of the people, we have set aside critical funding for early childhood education. We have enacted historic teacher pay raises and started a new center to train teachers in the critical fields of science, technology, engineering and math. We've quadrupled the funds going to our schools from our state trust lands. We've increased standards in high school for math and science, and we have cut the high school dropout rate nearly in half.

Yet, as always, there is more to do. We must build on what we have begun. Expanded resources must translate into ever-increasing levels of student achievement. The proportion of our education funds spent in the classroom must increase. The professional status – and the pay – of our classroom teachers must continue to improve, while we demand more of our administrators and elected school boards.

In difficult times, our state is called to show its commitment to the children of Arizona. Our public school system educates 82 percent of Arizona's students. Their future has to be Arizona's number-one priority. School choice is important; we can expand and preserve that choice through the growing institution of quality public charter schools.

Today's short-term budget decisions must not harm the long-term future of Arizona's children. If this Legislature cuts classroom spending, the people of Arizona will recognize such a cut for what it is – not a budget necessity, but a willful and unwise choice.

We must look at higher education in the same way. In the past six years, we have institutionalized the P-20 model in Arizona, which recognizes the reality that education is not neatly segmented, but is instead a continuum of learning that begins at birth and lasts well into a chosen career path.

With this fact in mind, we have built up our universities with a new medical campus and labs that are attracting new research and hundreds of millions of dollars in new grants. We have tripled the state's commitment to student financial aid and launched a new program to put more middle school students on the path to college.

Last year, the Legislature also passed a plan to build and improve the physical infrastructure of our universities – a forward-thinking plan that accommodates future enrollment growth while quickly creating desperately needed construction jobs. It is a good plan, we can afford it, and we should put it into action now.

As we build up education, I am also proposing to you legislation that will widen our embrace of Arizona's veterans. Let us give them greater access to education by extending in-state tuition to every single veteran in Arizona. This will continue the important work of both of supporting our veterans and increasing the number of college graduates in our state.

Our universities and community colleges are economic engines. They give our students the skills they need to work in the good jobs of the future. We need to show the world that even during these hard times, Arizona is open for business. We will demonstrate this by continuing to build a highly educated workforce and by increasing our research capacity – through our universities as well as institutions like TGen and Science Foundation Arizona.

In the past years, I have given the universities a significant charge: to double the number of bachelor's degrees earned in Arizona by 2020. This is where we need to be to thrive in the high-tech economy. Universities have already experienced budget cuts, and we need to avoid deeper cuts that impair their educational and economic missions.

Our investment in higher education is an investment driven by this simple fact: the better future for Arizona that we are called upon to build cannot happen unless we train more doctors, engineers, teachers, scientists, entrepreneurs and those educated in the humanities and the arts. Protecting education is what I mean when I say we cannot sacrifice the long term for the sake of short term expediency.

As we commit to this critical knowledge infrastructure, we must also invest in our physical infrastructure. This is timely because it is likely that an infrastructure stimulus plan is on its way from the federal government. And it is important because we know this kind of investment creates jobs and creates wealth.

Last year, I asked you to hold hearings and prepare a statewide transportation plan for referral to the ballot. Sadly, the Legislature failed to do this, and then a citizen's initiative was kept from the ballot.

That citizen's initiative proposal made sense – and it still makes sense, both for our present because we will need jobs, and for the future, because we will need roads, highways, rail and transit to support our growth. I ask you to build from this citizen's proposal, hold additional hearings, and allow the people of Arizona to have their say on this critical issue by 2010.

But infrastructure does not stop with transportation. With my budget, I am giving you a plan for desperately needed school buildings. These new buildings will be energy efficient, they will provide an economic stimulus and they will build a legacy that is able to serve this state for decades.

Arizona must also stay on the path toward greener future. We must continue to implement forest health measures that create new industries and protect our forested communities. We also must work to limit our greenhouse gas emissions through the Western Climate Initiative, and move forward in building a strong renewable energy sector, particularly with respect to solar energy. The entire nation is going in this direction – and Arizona has much to gain by being a leader.

Of course, as we continue to prepare for our future, we must not overlook those in need right now. In these difficult times, we are called to serve the Arizona families hit hardest by the economic storm. The national recession has meant that we have more people out of work or making less money than they did before. More Arizonans now depend on food banks as a regular source of food – a 42 percent increase in demand from one year ago. In the past year, more than 70,000 Arizonans have enrolled in state health care through AHCCCS and KidsCare; more than 150,000 Arizona families have received foreclosure notices. It would be wrong to hurt our seniors, our youngest children and those who are ill or disabled in the name of balancing the budget.

Many of those who need help now are people who have always worked hard and played by the rules, who have never had to ask for help before. All of these Arizonans deserve the chance to work toward a brighter future. It is our job to protect and continue to invest in the safety net for those hardest-hit in Arizona, so they can prosper when the storm passes.

By way of example, just this past year, we refocused our efforts to ensure that Arizonans are using the programs that can benefit them – such as the federal Earned Income Tax Credit. In the last year, this tax credit has placed nearly $16 million back into the pockets of Arizona families, nearly one quarter more than the previous tax year.

In response to rising foreclosures, we have secured millions in federal funds to stem the worst effects of mortgage foreclosure on our neighborhoods, and we have dedicated millions of state dollars to fighting foreclosure and homelessness.
Budget deficits mean cuts, and cuts are hard. In the past two years, we have already cut $1.8 billion; the budget I will present to you later this week will provide for further cuts.

Yet, as we tighten our belts, we must remember that this part of our call to serve means still caring for those less fortunate, and protecting services like education, foreclosure assistance, health care and shelter from abuse, neglect and domestic violence. To serve today means an added duty to protect the children who might otherwise fall through the cracks. These children are growing and learning today – they deserve to be able to do so safely, without becoming sick, or hungry, or homeless.

Another imperative is to protect our advances in health care, including expanded access to KidsCare for families that need it, investments in health care technology to improve the delivery of care and substantial savings on prescription drugs. Some fear that little can be done right now about these pressing problems; but Congress is likely to increase aid for state Medicaid programs. And when this happens, Arizona can continue its work to improve health care by enacting quality-of-care measures, building our electronic health records infrastructure and implementing other reforms necessary to ensure that every Arizona family has access to a doctor when they need one.

There is no more fundamental function of government than to protect the public, and I am proud of what we have achieved in the past six years. Crime in Arizona has gone down in nearly every category. We have built the nation's first state anti-terrorism center and prepared ourselves to be ready for any disaster. We secured increased federal resources at the border, and state task forces have arrested hundreds of human smugglers. We have used innovative methods to attack the tools of the smuggling trade, such as money laundering and fraudulent identification. We have made Arizona the most innovative and active state in the nation in addressing – head-on – the consequences of our nation's broken borders.

We have to keep up this intense pressure on the border criminals who use violence and fraud to smuggle people and drugs into our country. This effort includes a bill I am presenting to you today that goes after those criminals by broadening the human trafficking laws we use to crack down on those who smuggle people across the border.

To be called to serve in difficult times means doing as much as possible with limited resources. We do not have as many law enforcement resources as any of us would like, and we are called to use them wisely to promote public safety the best we possibly can. We must continue to fight human smugglers, just as we have fought to take away their illegal weapons, stolen cars, drop houses and money-laundering channels. Tough law enforcement means smart law enforcement, for which we must always hold ourselves accountable.

In carrying out the call to serve in challenging times, the public must be our highest guide. There are several areas of government reform you should take up in order to strengthen the voice of the people and allow them a greater say in how Arizona can address its current obstacles and thrive into the future.

You must reform Arizona's initiative and referendum processes. While I disagree strongly with the state Supreme Court's decision to keep initiatives on transportation and state trust land reform off the ballot, our statutes must be revised to further the ability of the people to enact legislation. While it is incumbent on this Legislature to revisit transportation and state trust land reform, you must also consider reform of the initiative process itself.

When crafting these reforms, I urge you to increase access to the ballot by lowering our high signature requirements, but at the same time crack down on signature fraud by increasing the number of signatures to be examined, banning payment by signature and registering paid circulators. You also must remove the initiative sponsors' now-unlimited ability to give their initiatives misleading names. These changes will help ensure that bureaucratic requirements do not mute the voice of the people in charting our future.

I also ask that you consider changes to the referendum process.

The Legislature should not be able to refer a potential law to the ballot without the same number of votes it would take to override a gubernatorial veto. Making this simple change would help preserve the balance of power between the executive and legislative branches.

Those of us who are public officials face a call to serve that is demanding. But each difficulty presents an opportunity to improve the quality of life in Arizona. Arizona would be well served if we follow the example set by our fellow citizens – Arizona's 1.1 million volunteers.

Those volunteers dedicate more than 180 million hours a year to serving their communities. They strengthen our neighborhoods and our state by giving their time and efforts to serve the young and the old, those who are sick and those are struggling.

Even state government has benefited from Arizonans' volunteer service. The thousands of Arizonans who volunteer their time for agencies such as our Game and Fish, Parks, and Public Safety Departments work hundreds of thousands of hours every year and save taxpayers millions of dollars.

Building upon this spirit of service, I am proud of a new addition to our state's 2-1-1 online system called "Give Help," which connects Arizonans with opportunities to serve. Arizonans can now go to AZ211.gov to donate resources or volunteer time to their communities and their state.

We must also recognize the inspiring service of the men and women of the Arizona National Guard. More than 6,000 of them have served in Iraq, Afghanistan and elsewhere – some on as many as three tours of duty. The sacrifice of these Guard members and their families is the highest example of service to our communities, our state and our country.

It is by working together – and by giving a greater measure of ourselves – that we will change the direction of our state and our nation.

For Secretary of State Brewer, answering the call to serve means taking on a major, unexpected role. I appreciate the duties and responsibilities that she will assume if I am confirmed as Secretary of Homeland Security and she becomes Governor. I have – and will continue to – work with her closely on the transition of the governorship. I ask that all of you in this chamber – Republicans and Democrats alike – join with her, in the spirit of service, to move our state forward.

For me, the call to serve in these difficult times means that I will leave Arizona soon and, if I am confirmed, will take on a new and demanding role, working with our new President to protect our nation.

First Day

It is an honor to be asked to serve in this way, but it is also bittersweet. I want to thank Arizonans for giving me their confidence and allowing me the privilege to lead our state these past six years. I want to thank my staff and my Cabinet for all they have achieved. I want to thank my family and friends who have stood by me.

Leaving is very difficult. But I believe the post our new President has asked me to fill is critical to the safety of Arizonans and to all Americans. I will do my utmost there, as I have done here.

I hope one day to return to this state that I love, but in the meantime, there is much that I will miss. I will miss early mornings on my balcony, smelling orange blossoms as I read the paper. I will miss spring training. I will miss the "dry heat." Above all, I will miss the wonderful people of this state. I grew up in the West and have lived here nearly all my life. I am a Westerner. Arizona is my home.

And while these are arduous times, and the tasks that lie ahead will not be easy, I trust that when I return home, I will find an Arizona that continued to build its long-term future – an Arizona that has realized even more of what it can be.

I ask that you keep me in your thoughts and prayers, just as I will keep you in mine.

Thank you for your attention today. And thank you for your service to – and belief in – the future of Arizona.

STEVEN B. YARBROUGH
Speaker Pro Tempore of the House

ATTEST:

Chief Clerk of the House

The joint session of the House and Senate was called to order by Senate President Robert "Bob" Burns at 4:05 p.m.

The Sergeant at Arms announced that Governor Janice K. Brewer was waiting in the inner lobby.

Governor Janice K. Brewer addressed the Legislature as follows:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members, distinguished guests and my fellow Arizonans, let me begin by expressing my gratitude to the many friends, supporters, and political leaders from both major parties who have so generously offered me their prayers and encouragement since I became Governor and during the weeks leading up to my swearing in.

Over the last couple of months, I have wondered, sometimes in quiet prayer, why the good Lord has called us to our positions of enormous responsibility and humbled us with the public trust at this very critical time in history.

My friends, the answer has become more and more clear to me each and every day since becoming Governor, and I am confident that tonight and in the days and weeks ahead our collective mission will become more clear to all of you.

In times of crisis, it is important that we reflect on the wisdom and courage of those who came before us. As I consider our path to prosperity, building a better Arizona, and a solid foundation for the future, names like Barry Goldwater,Carl Hayden,Bob Stump,Mo Udall, and John Rhodes echo through my thoughts. You can vividly see their leadership still today in the infrastructure and energy that fundamentally sustain our state: the long-lasting life blood of the CAP canal, the wealth creation of our copper mines, the Roosevelt Dam supporting world-class agriculture and ranching and the world's best aerospace and technology companies.

Those great Arizona leaders considered more than just their 'today', they built the foundations for the wealth of 'tomorrow' that we inherited. They shared a trait also found in some of today's best leaders—the ability and the courage to speak the truth. If you doubt the capacity of the people of Arizona to "handle the truth" let me help you with that. Arizonans cannot only handle the truth -- they demand it, and they demand that we "tell it to them straight", and here is the truth: Arizona is in a financial crisis.

We have to face the reality that between July 1st of this year and June 30th of 2010 state government will run a budget deficit of roughly $3 billion, and as we meet here tonight, we cannot expect State revenues to improve until 2012 at the very earliest.

This is hard news to take, believe me it has caused me many sleepless nights. What makes matters even worse is that years' of ill-conceived and permanent spending commitments guarantee that the hole in which we find ourselves today will grow deeper tomorrow.

The truth is, we cannot afford the size of government we now have, and even a slowly recovering economy will not fix the problem. If you begin with a reasonable revenue estimate, add in the federal stimulus dollars, and continue our current rate of spending by 2014 the State of Arizona would have an accumulated budget deficit of $13 billion — $13 billion!!

There are some in state government who have tried to shrug off this news. They have tried to comfort themselves and misguide the rest of us by claiming that Arizona is no worse off than the rest of the states. Members, that is just not true.

The truth is we have inherited one of the largest budget deficits per capita of any state in the United States. The truth is, the State of Arizona is spending billions more than it brings in, and unlike our friends in Washington, DC, we can't just print more money. We have to make the hard decisions to match revenues with spending. They have to balance, and WE have to strike that balance.

Arizona's fiscal crisis is firmly planted in three key problems that are fundamental and can no longer be ignored, delayed, or passed along to future Governors and Legislatures.

The first problem:

The State of Arizona made bad decisions to fund permanent spending commitments with short-term one-time revenues that were not sustainable. For example, the Rainy Day Fund. All $750 million has been drained, and most was spent well before the worst of the economic downturn.

In roughly the same time period the state borrowed more than $650 million from our K-12 system to help balance the books. We have sold and then leased-back our own state prisons to generate one-time cash that will take 20 years to pay for.

To balance our last two General Fund budgets the State depended on $750 million in what are known as "Fund Sweeps". A "Fund Sweep" is a government term that means taking money that was intended for one purpose in order to pay for another purpose that we really could not afford.

Again, these were one-time fixes; band-aids that crippled the ability of the funds to operate and that provided false hope that the State could keep up with its permanent spending habit.

One year ago a legislative leader said, and I quote, "Borrowing allows spending to continue in excess of available revenue. Using the rainy day fund and other cash resources will work only to balance the current fiscal year pushing the structural deficit into the next fiscal year and we need to put this fire out now before it becomes a complete and utter disaster."

You all know who said that a year ago because he's been saying it for years! President Bob Burns was right about the structural deficit then, and he is right about it today!

Our second fundamental problem relates to the permanent, inflexible spending and taxes that are locked into the Voter Protection Act, also known as Proposition 105, which was passed in 1998.

The underlying concept of Prop 105 is well-intended, but times have changed and it makes no sense to have large sums available for program enhancements when we can't afford the core services. But Prop 105, specifically as it applies to spending, not policies, paints state government into a corner where for all practical purposes the only spending cuts available to the Legislature and the Governor are in the critical areas of education, public safety and vital services to our state's most at-risk population.

Today, more than $3 billion are spent and will grow with little flexibility. One example, $20 million is mandated this year to stop urban sprawl. NEWS FLASH – we do not have an urban sprawl problem this year!!

Ladies and gentlemen, Prop 105 was not designed, nor do I believe it was the intent of Arizona voters, to starve our fundamental, core services and to hold us back from our future.

Here's our third fundamental problem. We have an antiquated, backwards-looking tax structure that penalizes success, hamstrings entrepreneurs in creating new jobs or re-locating to our state and collects revenues in a fashion more suited to the 1960's and the 1970's.

So now you have heard the truth about the bad news we face. What's the good news?

The good news is that there is still time to solve this problem -- IF we act responsibly. We are here to apply the accumulated lessons of our lives and faiths and to summon the courage to act. Now is the time and this is the place to honor Arizona's legacy, to unify and defend our citizens, and to begin building a better Arizona. I now call upon you, the honorable Representatives and Senators who have been entrusted by the people of your districts and our state to build a recovery plan that is equally supported by five essential proposals that are crucial to building a better Arizona.

First, we must prevent Arizona's fiscal crisis from occurring again by enacting structural budget reform. I ask you to reform the rainy day fund so that it will be available for true rainy days, not just to close budget deals or to prop-up new permanent spending with false hope.

The rainy day fund is not a legislative or executive branch slush fund, it is meant to protect our citizens in a true emergency. Specifically, I ask that you double the maximum size of the fund and to restrict its use with a pre-designed formula that makes sense.

Our structural budget reforms should also be designed to restrict and limit routine raids on fee-based funds also called "Fund Sweeps". Occasionally, some sweeps may be justified and perfectly legal, but when users are required to pay fees for required government services they should have the confidence to know that if they have paid the fee they will receive the service. I have heard of fund sweeps described as a homeowner who writes a check for the utility bill only to have the government intercept the check in the mail before it reaches the power company. Guess what happens, the power gets shut off. This cannot continue. That tool must be restricted just as we restrict the use of rainy day funds.

Another part of our structural budget reform should be a commitment to a fair and honest revenue estimation process.

The truth is we will end the current fiscal year not with 8% revenue growth but with a 12% revenue decline. It's astonishing that our latest budgets were built on the most optimistic revenue projections at a time when nearly every economic forecaster was predicting a downturn. Why were they ignored? Because it's easier to build two years of spending on flawed revenue projections than it is to make tough decisions.

I commit that our process will be fair. It will truly be the starting point of a dependable honest accounting based more on economics and less on politics. I look forward to discussing your ideas on structural budget reform as we seek to prevent another budget crisis in the future.

Second, we must stop adding or creating programs we cannot pay for. I propose you send to the voters, for their approval a measure to improve the Voter Protection Act, and to allow updates to programs that impact the General Fund budget. In these extraordinary times we cannot be handcuffed by the noble ideas from a different era. We cannot be fighting urban sprawl when real people are losing their jobs. In times of true crisis it is unacceptable to leave public safety, education, and core health services as the last ones bearing all the weight.

My third proposal reflects the reality that the budget we have inherited will almost certainly require further spending cuts.

No one is more acutely aware than I of the depth and the pain of these budget cuts. These reductions have real impacts on real people, on real families and it is an outrage that poor planning and budget neglect have created false hope. We end up victimizing the people we SHOULD be caring for the most.

That is a tragedy and it is wrong!

To that end, I have directed my Cabinet to spend the necessary hours and days with their budget staffs and senior administrators to evaluate the impacts of possible cuts in 5% increments up to 20%. Members, by 2010 we need to arrive at accumulated cuts and other program changes that reduce the General Fund obligations by $1 billion dollars.

It will be a disservice to future generations if we fail to put our house in order. Together, we have already reduced spending by half-a-billion dollars in my first days in office—the largest spending cuts by any Governor - EVER. So, more cuts will be painful, but they must be done. Make no mistake a budget without further reductions will not receive my signature.

And now my fourth proposal—reform and modernize our state tax structure. Study after study has been conducted only to sit on a bookshelf and collect dust. Our tax structure must not hold back job creation and capital formation. My staff and I have already been in consultation with the Speaker and the President to create positive tax reform. We need a tax structure that promotes job growth, job sustainability, investment in Arizona, and revenue stability.

Therefore, I call for a tax reduction that will begin in 2012, and we need to progressively build a more friendly tax code that attracts investment capital and helps create high wage, sustainable jobs. Give me a tax cut that equips us with the tools to build a better Arizona.

Arizona's economic recovery won't happen overnight, but tax reform is the only way that is sure to support and grow our Arizona employers who have stuck it out with us. It also brings new ones from other states and countries and it must be our highest priority for the future. I have no greater focus than to grow jobs in Arizona and if you give us the tools, we will deliver.

For me, my fifth and final proposal is without question the most difficult of all. Some of you here in this chamber tonight probably think I have been an elected official since state-hood. Not quite. In 1966, I was a hopeful young lady in my 20's from Southern California. California was a beautiful and exciting place to be and my family felt blessed that God had placed us in one of the most vibrant places – in the greatest nation on earth. That year, a movie actor was elected Governor of California. His name was Ronald Reagan. He had inspired Californians with his commitment to individual freedom with his emphasis on public safety, and with his traditional values and fiscal conservatism that have encouraged and sustained us through history. Within his first several weeks of office, Governor Reagan exposed the truth and consequences of years of budget neglect and poor decisions.

You see, California's budget had been built on a house of cards, a Ponzi scheme designed to let politicians take credit for spending now and force others to worry about the consequences later. Vast amounts of debt and accounting gimmicks coupled with a huge expansion in permanent spending and government programs had left that productive state and its new Governor with a financial crisis a state budget near collapse.

Now, I am not Ronald Reagan, and thankfully we are not California. But this picture looks and sounds familiar. No one can challenge the conservative credentials of perhaps one of the greatest presidents of the 20th Century. This great man of great faith was a true conservative. He confronted the insurmountable state budget crisis by proposing and ratifying a tax increase.

I will match my 27 years of anti-tax, conservative credentials with anyone in public office. But as a very last resort, after considering every other option, and after doing a truthful and honest assessment of our economic situation, we must be willing to consider the passage of a temporary tax increase – approved by you and signed by me – or approved by the voters at a special election, of roughly $1 billion dollars per year.

This temporary increase should be dedicated to preserving our education systems, our critical public safety commitments, and our essential public health services necessary for the survival of our state's most at-risk citizens. I do not propose these steps lightly, and you would not hear me utter these words if I did not firmly and confidently believe that it is absolutely necessary.

We cannot balance this budget on cuts alone, nor on taxes alone, nor on Federal Stimulus dollars alone. We cannot place all of the burden on our children and their schools. We cannot place all of the burden on the parents that need day care so they can go to work and stay off welfare. We cannot leave the sick on the streets alone to fend for themselves only to overload our hospitals and our jails. We cannot be penny wise and pound-foolish.

So there it is, five integrated and essential proposals to rescue our state budget from financial collapse and begin building a better Arizona. This is a multi-year problem, and these five proposals focus our state on the long term. We must stop considering only a 2010 budget deal and we must start considering a multi-year fix that secures our future.

Before I go any further, I want to touch on the federal stimulus package. Arizona may receive over $4 billion from Washington. Not all of it helps to fix our state budget. It will reduce our state deficit by about $1 billion dollars a year for three years, and we are going to use it. It is not the complete solution to our problems; it will certainly not balance our budget, but it does help.

To that end, I ask that you quickly, and no later than March 14th, send me legislation that authorizes about $20 million dollars in federal childcare dollars that provide a 'hand up not a hand out'. This is assistance for working parents that won't be working without childcare; 20,000 children are depending on us.

Members, over the next several weeks and months we need to stay focused on fixing this financial crisis. As of today please, do not send me any bills that do not provide a comprehensive, long-term solution to our State's budget problems. If the bill is a true emergency we will deal with it.

To my friends and respected colleagues on the right I will not accept a budget that eats the seed corn that must be sown in the fields of our future. We all work hard for our children, and for their children. They must be safe in their neighborhoods and communities, and we cannot settle for an education system that merely prepares them to get a job. We must ensure that our education system prepares them to excel – in work, in business, in service to their community, and to our country. Let me make this point abundantly clear -I will not sign a budget that relies primarily on debt and federal stimulus dollars, and I will not sign a budget that relies primarily on unrealistic spending cuts.

To my friends and respected colleagues on the left, I will not accept a budget just like last year's or the years before that builds an un-sustainable budget primarily with debt and superficial gimmicks and that will only have to be revised and updated this year or next. If you attempt to use nothing but more debt and gimmicks, you condemn us to short term collapse, and I will veto that type of budget. I implore you to focus on the impacts of today's decisions on the budget for 2011, 12, 13 and beyond.

All of us, Republicans and Democrats, alike must set aside our differences in this time of crisis. All of us have to make sacrifices, and only by working together can we build a better Arizona. We must resist the temptation to fall back on rhetoric and old, discredited fixes for our budget problems. We must have the courage and determination to place workers, employers, families, retirees, students, and young children ahead of politics.

Fifty-second Day

My fellow Arizonans this is a multi-year problem that must receive a multi-year and comprehensive solution. In a world where the specter of a growing and more dominating federal government looms large, I ask that you join me in creating a Grand Canyon State that serves as a beacon of prosperity, opportunity, and freedom. It is time to get the job done. I have faith in each of you that together we can achieve this difficult task.

May God bless you and your families and may He bless us with the courage and the wisdom to act.

Thank you.

One Hundred Sixty-fourth Day

PROTEST

In accordance with Article IV, Part 2, Section 16, Constitution of Arizona, and House Rule 20, the following protest was entered:

In the Michigan campaign in 2006, Connerly was asked about the apparent support the KKK was giving the ballot measure. Ward Connerly responded:

"If the Ku Klux Klan thinks that equality is right, God bless them. Thank them for finally reaching the point where logic and reason are being applied, instead of hate."

"Throughout my life I have made absolutely clear my disdain for the KKK. However, like all Americans, I hope that this group will move beyond its ugly history and agree that equality before the law is the ideal. If they or any group accepts equality for all people, I will be the first to welcome them. I have nothing but contempt for separatist groups based on race that have done so much to hurt black people throughout American history. (The ballot measure) is about equality and fairness, not separation and preferences."

Any rational being can see, Mr. Connerly was expressing hope that "if" the KKK has mended its ugly ways and no longer hates people on the basis of their skin color, that would be a good thing.

To assassinate someone's character, as the member sought to do last week, is more than wrong; it is despicable.

PROTEST

In accordance with Article IV, Part 2, Section 16, Constitution of Arizona, and House Rule 20, the following protest was entered:

Pursuant to House Rule 20, I, with support of fellow caucus members, rise to protest the Speaker's appointment of Representative Stevens this morning to the Committee on Military Affairs and Public Safety after the committee had already started.

Today's appointment of Mr. Stevens disregards the custom and practice of this body, which are incorporated into House Rule 30. Appointments to standing committees are made in public from the floor. There is little or no precedent for today's action.

The rules exist for a reason. They create predictability, consistency and transparency. Whether by rule or custom, these goals are most important during a time like this when the process is extremely rushed and chaotic.

There are other ways today's action could have been handled. Members could have been advised of the committee change beforehand. The bills could have been reassigned.

Today's action may not strictly be prohibited by House rule. Still, that should be no justification if we wish to govern with respect for openness and accountability to the public.

House Democratic Leader

PROTEST

In accordance with Article IV, Part 2, Section 16, Constitution of Arizona, and House Rule 20, the following protest was entered:

Pursuant to House Rule 20, I too rise to protest the Speaker's last-minute appointment of Rep. Stevens this morning to the Committee on Military Affairs and Public Safety.

The Legislature is currently trying to push through six months worth of legislation in a few days. This is dangerous and reckless and there is a history of dire consequences when this kind of thing is done.

This is the worst possible time for the Republican Leadership to be using unconventional and unprecedented interpretations of the Rules that deny custom and practice. It creates distrust and more confusion. And it cuts the public out of the process.

With the decision to change Committee members at the last minute, the public lost its chance to address concerns to Mr. Stevens. Members of the public did not even know he was on the committee. And I doubt that Mr. Stevens had sufficient time to review these bills in advance.

The practice of withdrawing bills from one committee and assigning them to another is common and should've been done. It is much more transparent since re-assignments are done ahead of time on the Floor, recorded in the House journal and posted on the public website.

Assistant Minority Leader

SUPPLEMENT

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

Supplement 413

Messages from the Senate received after adjournment sine 431

Certification 432

Letters of transmittal received after adjournment sine die from Governor Janice K. Brewer indicated the following:

On June 30, 2009, the Governor allowed the following bill to become law without her signature:

HB 2324, health insurance; individuals; coverage exemptions

On July 01, 2009, the Governor approved the following:

SB 1027, ~~technical correction; bonds; tax considerations~~
(now: capital outlay; FY 2009-2010)

On July 01, 2009, the Governor disapproved the following:

HB 2644, budget reconciliation; general revenues

Dear Speaker Adams:

Today I returned with my veto House Bill 2644.

In March I presented the legislature a comprehensive 5-point plan to address the State's pending financial crisis and to consider long-term structural improvements that would diminish or prevent a repeat of this fiscal disaster. This plan along with the detailed budget plan I released publicly to you on June 1, 2009, contains a reasonable and sound approach to creating a balanced budget that takes into account the impacts and challenges of future budget years.

Unfortunately, House Bill 2644, along with the other FY 2010 budget bills adopted by the legislature, does not balance the state budget. We have a duty to adopt a budget that honestly and realistically addresses Arizona's growing fiscal crisis in a fashion that does not devestate the foundation of our most critical state government functions and services. These budget bills would prevent the proper function of many critical components of state government, as well as undermine our efforts to develop and encourage a prosperous future.

I am very well aware of the tremendous challenges that leadership must confront in the formation of a balanced budget plan. I am also deeply and sincerely grateful for the months of hard work and diligence of the legislature in developing potential solutions. I stand willing to continue our many weeks of negotiations and welcome the opportunity to work closely with you and your members to develop a consensus solution that balances our state budget.

Sincerely,
/s/JANICE K. BREWER
Governor

HB 2645, bedget reconciliation; general government

Dear Speaker Adams:

HB 2646, ~~technical correction; state highways~~
(now: state properties; trailer)

Dear Speaker Adams:

Today I returned with my veto House Bill 2646.

In March I presented the legislature a comprehensive 5-point plan to address the State's pending financial crisis and to consider long-term structural improvements that would diminish or prevent a repeat of this fiscal disaster. This plan along with the detailed budget plan I released publicly to you on June 1, 2009, contains a reasonable and sound approach to creating a balanced budget that takes into account the impacts and challenges of future budget years.

Unfortunately, House Bill 2646, along with the other FY 2010 budget bills adopted by the legislature, does not balance the state budget. HB 2647, ~~technical correction; abandoned vehicles~~
(now: budget reconciliation; criminal justice; trailer)

Dear Speaker Adams:

Today I returned with my veto House Bill 2647.

In March I presented the legislature a comprehensive 5-point plan to address the State's pending financial crisis and to consider long-term structural improvements that would diminish or prevent a repeat of this fiscal disaster. This plan along with the detailed budget plan I released publicly to you on June 1, 2009, contains a reasonable and sound approach to creating a balanced budget that takes into account the impacts and challenges of future budget years.

Unfortunately, House Bill 2647, along with the other FY 2010 budget bills adopted by the legislature, does not balance the state budget. We have a duty to adopt a budget that honestly and realistically addresses Arizona's growing fiscal crisis in a fashion that does not devestate the foundation of our most critical state government functions and services. These budget bills would prevent the proper function of many critical components of state government, as well as undermine our efforts to develop and encourage a prosperous future.

HB 2648, ~~technical correction; industrial development; insurance~~
(now: budget reconciliation; K-12 education; trailer)

Dear Speaker Adams:

Today I returned with my veto House Bill 2648.

In March I presented the legislature a comprehensive 5-point plan to address the State's pending financial crisis and to consider long-term structural improvements that would diminish or prevent a repeat of this fiscal disaster. This plan along with the detailed budget plan I released publicly to you on June 1, 2009, contains a reasonable and sound approach to creating a balanced budget that takes into account the impacts and challenges of future budget years.

Unfortunately, House Bill 2648, along with the other FY 2010 budget bills adopted by the legislature, does not balance the state budget. We have a duty to adopt a budget that honestly and realistically addresses Arizona's growing fiscal crisis in a fashion that does not devestate the foundation of our most critical state government functions and services. These budget bills would prevent the proper function of many critical components of state government, as well as undermine our efforts to develop and encourage a prosperous future.

I am very well aware of the tremendous challenges that leadership must confront in the formation of a balanced budget plan. I am also deeply and sincerely grateful for the months of hard work and diligence of the legislature in developing potential solutions. I stand willing to continue our many weeks of negotiations and welcome the opportunity to work closely with you and your members to develop a consensus solution that balances our state budget.

Sincerely,

On July 09, 2009, the Governor approved the following with the exceptin of selected lines:

HB 2643, technical correction, abandoned vehicles; monies
(now: general appropriation; 2009-2010; trailer)

Dear Speaker Adams:

Today I signed House Bill 2643, the "trailor" bill making revisions to Senate Bill 1188, the General Appropriations Act for FY 2009-10.

My signature on the bill, setting aside the line item actions I have taken, reflects my view that a shutdown of government services is not in the best interest of our State and its citizens. This bill reflects many improvements over Senate Bill 1188 but there are too many inadequacies in light of the legislature's failure to provide a comprehensive solution to the State's FY 2009-10 fiscal crisis. By refusing to turn over all the budget bills until early on July 1, 2009, I have been unable to express my concerns using my Constitutional powers in a timeframe in which a complete FY 2010 package could have been adopted. As a result, I am forced to cobble together a resolution that contains flaws, but is superior to Senate Bill 1188 or House Bill 2643 taken indepentently.

My line item vetoes and brief explanations follow:

A. Excessive Lump Sum Reductions

1. Department of Economic Security

2. Department of Environmental Quality

4. Universities
   Page 78, lines 20-39
5. Department of Economic Security

B. Underfunded K-12 Budget. I have stated throughout my time in office that I am unwilling to agree to a K-12 Budget that does not adequately meet the needs of our public education system. While the extreme fiscal condition of our state makes some reductions necessary, the cuts inacted by the legislature in Senate Bill 1188 are significantly greater than those advanced in my budget. The possibility of revenues from the temporary sales tax would have helped mitigate the impacts of the proposed cuts to K-12 schools. Furthermore, the federal stimulus funds will be woefully inadequate to offset the impacts of these reductions for FY 2010, creating the specter of even larger unmitigated cuts for FY 2011 and beyond. Consequently, I am eliminating the proposed approriatioin to K-12 in hopes that I can work with the legislature to enact an acceptable level of funding for the upcoming fiscal year.

SB 1188, fiduciary funds; deposits; technical correction
(now: general appropriations; FY 2009-2010)

Dear President Burns:

Today I signed Seante Bill 1188, the 2009-10 General Appropriations Act, while at the same time exercising my line item veto authority with respect to several specific items of appropriation.

My signature on the bill, setting aside the line item actions I have taken, reflects my view that a shutdown of government services is not in the best interest of our State and its citizens. I believe that the public interest would not be well served by a complete veto or a broader set of line item vetoes. In addition, given the legislature's unconstitutional delay in delivering the bills and the timing problems which have ensued, I am unable to exercise my Constitutional authority to let the Act, not of my line item vetoes, go into law without my signature.

While I am compelled to accept the bulk of the Act, I cannot agree to all of it. Specifically, I have line item vetoed the following items of appropriation for the reasons outlined below:

A. Agency Lump Sum Reductions. Senate Bill 1188 makes lump sum reductions for several important agencies. These agencies have already suffered significant across the board reductions over the last two years and are simply not in a position to sustain additional reductions without compromising their missions. Further, the lack of willingness to implement the full and complete compromise agreed to by my office, the Speaker of the House and the Senate President leaves me no option but to strike some of these reductions. While I recognize reductions are in order, the magnitude of what has been sent to me, absent some counterbalancing measures, is an unacceptable hit to critical agencies. I remain open to further negotiations.

On July 13, 2009, the Governor disapproved the following:

HB 2258, ~~consumer fireworks; novelties; sales~~
(now: consumer fieworks)

Dear Speaker Adams,

Today I reluctantly vetoed House Bill 2258 Consumer Fireworks. I have been a supporter of responsible fireworks usage dating back to the time I served in the Legislature. However, I fear the language contained in this specific bill does not sufficiently address the risk of fire on federal, state, and county lands. As you well know Arizona is very susceptible to wildfire, particularly during our driest months.

Over the course of the last several days I have received numerous contacts from opponents deeply concerned about the ramifications of this legislation. They include contacts from multiple municipal jurisdictions including rural and urban elected officials. I have also received written opposition to this legislation from the United States Forest Service, as they share many state and local official's concerns over an increased potential for wildland fires.

I encourage the stakeholders to work together to develop a plan that protects individual rights and allows Arizona residents to enjoy fireworks in a responsible manner while also addressing the risk of fire on our local, county and state public lands.

Sincerely,
/s/JANICE K. BREWER
Governor

HB 2341, renewable energy production tax credit

Dear Speaker Adams:

Today I, with much deliberation, vetoed HB 2341. This bill attempted to revise current tax credits for the production of renewable energy to keep pace with similar tax credits offered by neighboring states. The bill sought to apply these credits against tax liabilities of the energy producer for new sources of power-generated beginning in 2010, instead of offering refundable tax credits.

While these efforts are necessary and should produce much needed renewable energy investment in Arizona, the bill goes too far in that there is no cap on the amount of tax credits which can be garnered by large scale solar energy producers. Both OSPB and the Department of Commerce expressed concern that there is no way to know how many potential tax dollars are being offered in this legislation because there is no way to know how many new megawatt hours may be produced over the next ten years. Some preliminary calculations have suggested that a single 100MW concentrated solar facility could claim tax credits in excess of $88 million over the ten-year period. That example facility is relatively small compared to the several being proposed at the moment.

I support the concepts being advanced by this legislation and urge lawmakers to revisit the tax credits specifically by placing a reasonable cap on the amount of credit that can be claimed. In order to prevent any delay which may send the wrong message to renewable energy producers interested in our State, I will immediately amend the "call" of the current special session to allow consideration of a revised version of this bill.

Sincerely,
/s/JANICE K. BREWER
Governor

HB 2369, ~~revenue department; technical correction~~
(now: noncustodial federal monies; legislative appropriation)

Dear Speaker Adams:

Today I vetoed HB 2369; noncustodial federal monies; legislative appropriation, which would have granted the Legislature the authority to appropriate non-custodial federal funds received by state budget units.

Upon becoming Governor, I articulated the need to put Arizona's fiscal house in order and swiftly delivered a Five Point Plan to accomplish this objective. To subject federal funds to legislative appropriation would unnecessarily complicate the administration of those programs and divert the Legislature's attention away from creating real solutions to our state's fiscal problems. Appropriating federal funds is not the solution to our state's budget crisis.

I look forward to working with the bill sponsor and the Legislature to bring about the comprehensive budget solution our state so desperately needs.

For those and other reasons, I have vetoed HB 2369.

Sincerely,
/s/JANICE K. BREWER
Governor

SB 1017, multiple sclerosis awareness; special plates

Dear President Burns,

Today, I vetoed Senate Bill 1017 which would have created the Multiple Sclerosis Awareness special license plate and Fund, the Arizona Masonic Fraternity special license plate and Fund, the Hunger Relief special license plate and Fund and the Childhood Cancer Research special license plate and Fund.

I share the goals of the bill sponsor to create awareness and a funding source for these important causes. Unfortunately, this bill as amended contains a flaw that could easily have been fixed, but was not.

SB 1017 states that the funds accumulated from the childhood cancer research fund shall be allocated by the Department of Health Services director "as directed by the person or entity" who initiates the special plates process. This language is problematic because it allows a non-governmental entity the power to control the decisions of a state agency. Once these funds are deposited with a state agency, they become state funds and are subject to the restrictions of state law and procurement codes. The language may also violate Arizona's constitutional gift clause. Other special plate funds statutorily allow a state agency director to distribute the funds or require a director to distribute the funds to an organization with a 501c3 status.

It is important to note that this provision was originally proposed by Senator Pamela Gorman as SB 1374 license plates; childhood cancer research. The Department of Health Services and the Department's representative from the Attorney General's office found the provision and contacted the Senator's office to express concerns and offer amended language conforming the bill to other special plate funds. These communications occurred in February, yet no changes were made to this provision before it was adopted to SB 1017 in the last days of session.

For those and other reasons, I have vetoed SB 1017.

Sincerely,
/s/JANICE K. BREWER
Governor

SB 1022, ~~state monuments; repair fund; purpose~~
(now: political signs; tampering)

Dear President Burns,

Today, I vetoed Senate Bill 1022 which would have prohibited the removal of political signs that support or oppose candidates for public office or ballot measures from public rights-of-way.

The bill states that if the state, city, town or county deems that the placement of a political sign constitutes an emergency, the jurisdiction may immediately relocate the sign. A government worker relocating a political sign is against other state laws that prohibit a city or county from expending public monies to influence the outcome of an election.

The bill also allows the removal of a sign 24 hours after a notification is made to a candidate. This would prohibit the state, a city or county from removing a sign that is clearly a traffic hazard in order to contact a candidate.

While this bill was amended to specify size limitations and prohibit an attachment to traffic signal poles, campaign signs placed in public rights-of-way are a constant challenge to citizens, counties, cities and the state.

This bill is a preemption of local citizens' preferences to regulate such signage in their own communities and allows a political candidate to post signs virtually anywhere.

Sincerely,
/s/JANICE K. BREWER

SB 1464, ~~state financial condition; state treasusrer~~
(now: state budget reports; financial condition)

Dear President Burns:

Today I vetoed Senate Bill 1464, which requires the State Treasurer to prepare an annual financial condition statement for the Governor, President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives.

My five-point plan calls for substantive reforms in the way the State of Arizona forecasts revenues and also called for reforms to ensure that the State of Arizona balances on-going revenues with on-going expenses. While Senate Bill 1464 addresses some of the issues raised by the Executive, it comes up short of a comprehensive, collaborative solution.

Senate Bill 1464 provides for several new statements regarding revenues and expenditures. The State Treasurer would be required to provide an estimate of "probable receipts and disbursements from the treasury" for the current year and an itemized estimate of anticipated revenues for the next two fiscal years.

The Treasurer is the state's banker and cash manager. Any revenue forecasting undertaken by the Treasurer's office would be reliant on the Department of Administration's accounting systems and the Department of Revenue's tax collection tracking systems. In addition, the Executive and Legislative Branches already have internal and contractual expertise in revenue forecasting. Transferring the responsibility of forecasting revenues to the Treasurer's office would not be an efficient solution and would not encourage collaboration between the Executive Branch and the Legislative Branch to reach a consensus revenue estimate upon which sound budgets can be based.

Senate Bill 1464 also calls for expenditure reporting requirements that are similar in concept to the constitutional expenditure limits imposed on Arizona local governments and TABOR (Taxpayer Bill of Rights) in other states. Unfortunately, the formula prescribed in Senate Bill 1464 contains inconsistencies that make meaningful conclusions difficult. For example, the spending increases for K-12 enrollment is included as an adjustment, but neither university nor community college enrollments are considered.

For these and other reasons, I have vetoed Senate Bill 1464.

Sincerely,
/s/JANICE K. BREWER
Governor
